

As long as time travelling remains science fiction, big band 't Mouvement is the best alternative to take you back to the swing era. Think of classic tunes written in the late 30s and 40s by giants such as Duke Ellington, Count Basie and Gene Krupa and you've got the sound of 't Mouvement!

The band counts over 20 musicians that share friendship and the passion for music, under the dedicated leadership of trumpet player Marie-Anne Standaert. Apart from its broad swing repertoire, 't Mouvement is also exploring other styles such as funk, latin and fusion, which regularly appear on the playlist. In 2018, 't Mouvement celebrated its 10-year anniversary and was able to count more than 100 concerts on its record, going from gigs in local bars to performances at summer festivals, cultural centres and Lindy hop swing parties at home and abroad. Over the years, the band has managed to reach a broad audience and to build up a strong fan crowd among swing music lovers.
